The different meetings on topics of your choice were probably my favorite part, as I had long term questions finally answered in depth! I really felt that was an amazing and worth-while trip and want to thank all who helped me attend it!*

Savanna (con'td)...to all people and has said it is better to suffer for doing God's work than for doing evil. This is applied to all aspects of life, not just the mission field. God again wants us to direct our attention toward Him, rather than focusing on ourselves.

I walked away from this experience feeling thankful. Because though I was completely exhausted from barley sleeping for four days. I became more sure than ever of God's grace.

Jessica (con'td)... and aren't afraid to share it with you. Why? Because God loves them, so why shouldn't they love themselves and others just the same! ...There is really no way to fully express how great of an experience this camp has given me. Your life is literally changed by these people in the most positive way. I know I'll be back next year and I hope more and more people decide to come too!
