WE MUST ADJUST TO CHANGING TIMES, BUT STILL HOLD TO UNCHANGING PRINCIPLES!

EARLY CHILDHOOD -- the critical years between birth and age eight, for developing attitudes of self-worth. These years are best enhanced by a learning environment that offers developmental appropriate opportunities for children in the home as well as in the school. Each child needs to progress at his/her own pace and style of learning through the many various stages. Encourage, but do not pressure learning, respect childhood and know that certain achievements must be met before a child will be ready to move ahead. Because all aspects of growth are interrelated, consider the child's cognitive, physical, social, and emotional development. Always Consider the WHOLE CHILD!

Early childhood programs should provide curriculum through educational play activities. These activities help to promote brain development and create neutral highways in an appropriate manner. The following list indicates why educational play is critical and important. Helping to build the "structure of the intellect" appropriately comes through play and not workbooks or work pages.

THE IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATIONAL PLAY IN EARLY CHILDHOOD PROGRAMS WHICH INCLUDE TRANSITIONAL KINDERGARTEN AND KINDERGARTEN

Understanding the importance of educational play in guiding young children's learning.

1. A chance to transform materials into meaningful symbols.
2. A chance to develop an inquiring mind and explore personal feelings.
3. A chance to work through who they are and what they are.
4. A chance to develop curiosity; to create, imagine, and experiment.
5. A chance to express and to reveal themselves, develop a self image, and make an impression on the world of materials.
6. A chance to understand and enjoy the world of meanings.
7. A chance to solve problems.
8. A chance to learn how to make friends with children and adults.
9. A chance to learn to work with groups -- large and small.
10. A chance to respect the rights of others.
11. A chance to learn to cope with disappointment.
12. A chance to learn about others' feelings.
13. A chance to assert themselves and to be important.
14. A chance to develop hobbies and broaden their interest.
15. A chance to develop the foundation for formal learning.
16. A chance to develop the mind, consolidate experience, rehearse life, and widen horizons.

SONG

You've Got to Tell

1. When you know Lord Jesus and His love for you,
There is just one thing you've simply got to do.

Chorus

You've got to tell, tell, tell, tell, tell.
You've got to tell, tell, tell, tell, tell
In a whisper, in a shout,
Let it out, let it out!
You've got to tell, tell, tell, tell, tell.

2. Jesus love inside you isn't meant to stay.
He's got more for you, so give that love away.

Repeat Chorus

BIBLE VERSE

"He cares for you." 1 Peter 5:7

Preschool Fieldtrip to the Camarillo Library

One-day-only - Friday, April 19th @ 9:30am. All students & Parents are invited to join us for a Field Trip to the Camarillo Library. We will meet at the Camarillo Library at 9:20am. We will have a Library tour, a Dr. Seuss book read by the Librarian, a craft or coloring project and end our time there with a snack on the back grassy area. Please bring a beach/park blanket to sit on and a snack for your child. A parent MUST accompany their child unless other arrangements are made ahead of time. After snack, we will head back to the preschool to finish out the day for the + lunch and  $\frac{3}{4}$  day students (11:30am dismissed students will be dismissed from the library). Siblings welcome.
